The Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) of 1976 grants the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) the authority to require reporting, recordkeeping, testing, and to impose restrictions related to chemical substances and/or mixtures.

On January 6, 2021, the EPA completed risk evaluations and established a new regulatory management program for five persistent, bioaccumulative, and toxic (PBT) chemical substances. - Pentachlorothiophenol (PCTP)

Furthermore, on October 11, 2023, the EPA published the final rule under TSCA Section 8(a)(7), establishing reporting and recordkeeping requirements for Perfluoroalkyl and Polyfluoroalkyl Substances (PFAS).

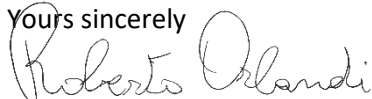

To the best of our knowledge, and based on information provided by our raw material and component suppliers, Ravioli S.p.A. hereby declares that:

- The products do not contain any intentionally added PFAS, nor are they manufactured with PFAS, as defined by the EPA under TSCA Section 8(a)(7);
- None of these substances are intentionally added or used during the manufacturing process.
